KAISER'S SHIPS ARE DESTROYED

London, Nov. 23.—The official press bureau announces that the German submarine U-18 has been rammed on the north coast of Scotland by a British patrolling vessel.

The patrolling ship rammed the submarine at 12:20 o'clock this afternoon. The U-18 was not seen again until 1:20, when she appeared on the surface flying a white flag. Shortly after this she foundered just as the British destroyer Garry came alongside. The destroyer rescued three officers and twenty-three of the submarine's crew, only one being drowned.

The names of the German officers rescued are Captain Lieutenant Von Hennig, Engineer Lieutenant Sprenger and Lieutenant Neuberger.

The submarine U-18 of the German navy was built in 1912. She had a cruising radius of 2000 miles and a speed of fourteen knots above water and eight knots submerged.

Destroyer Is Sunk.

London, Nov. 23, 8:30 p. m.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from Copenhagen says the Danish steamer Angolane collided last night in the Gronsund with the German torpedo boat destroyer S-124, which foundered.

Two German sailors, according to the correspondent, were rescued by the steamer, seriously injured, and succumbed to their injuries. The remainder of the crew of the destroyer was drowned.

A dispatch to Reuters' Telegram company from Copenhagen says that the crew of the S-124 has arrived in Copenhagen.

The German torpedo-boat destroyer S-124 was built in 1903. She was of 6500-horsepower and had a speed of twenty-eight knots. She carried a crew of about sixty men. The Gronsund is a channel between the Danish islands of Moen and Falster in the Baltic sea.

Towed Ashore, One Report. Copenhagen, Nov. 23, via London, 12:55 a. m.—A German torpedo boat destroyer was in collision yesterday with the steamer Angolane in the Baltic sea outside Falsterbo, Sweden. Two German torpedo boats went to the assistance of the destroyer as she was about to sink and a majority of the crew was taken aboard them. Three of the men were rescued by the Angolane, but one of them, the chief engineer, died a half hour later.

The destroyer was towed by one of the torpedo boats to the Swedish coast, where she will be disarmed. The injured boat carried no lights. The Angolane sustained no damage in the collision.

To Grow Hair on A Bald Head

BY A SPECIALIST. Thousands of people suffer from baldness and falling hair who, having tried nearly every advertised hair tonic, have resigned themselves to baldness and its attendant discomfort. Yet their case is not hopeless, the following simple home preparation has made hair grow after years of baldness, and is also unequalled for restoring gray hair to its original color, stopping hair from falling out, and destroying the dandruff germ. It will not make the hair greasy, and can be put up by any druggist. Bay Rum, 6 ounces; Lavender Compound, 2 ounces; Menthol Crystals, one-half drachm. If you wish it perfumed, add 1 drachm of your favorite perfume. This preparation is highly recommended by physicians and specialists, and is absolutely harmless as it contains none of the poisonous wood alcohol so frequently found in hair tonics.

MOSLEMS RANSACK BRITISH EMBASSY

London, Nov. 24, 2:55 a. m.—Telegraphing from Petrograd, the Morning Post's correspondent says: "The British embassy in Constantinople has been ransacked and all foreigners have been more or less seriously abused. There have been many arrests among all classes of the population."

A wide-spread conspiracy against the Young Turks has been discovered. There have been numerous reports current in Constantinople of the treachery of the Arabs in various parts of the Turkish empire."

Provo, Nov. 23.—L. D. Chadwick of Tucker and Alice M. Corless of Salem and Ernest Haney Benjamins and Pearl Daniels of Payson were married here by Deputy County Clerk J. M. Chipman.

RUSSIANS HAVE HALTED TEUTONS

London, Nov. 24, 6:45 a. m.—An official communication given out in Petrograd, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch, announces a German retreat in Poland. The communication follows: "Between the Vistula and the Warta the Germans have retreated from the line running from Strykow to Zgierz Szadek, Zdunska, Wola and Woznik."

The line from which the Germans have retreated, according to the above dispatch, runs from the north-east of Lodz, down past that town to the southwest.

Petrograd, Nov. 23.—The Army Gazette reports that on November 21 Russian troops between the Vistula and the Warta assumed the offensive and repulsed the Germans. They captured two and a half regiments and numerous guns.

London, Nov. 23, 9:30 p. m.—The battle which is being fought in the region between the Vistula and Warta rivers, in Poland, appears to have turned in favor of the Russians. In fact, a special dispatch from Petrograd to Paris says that the Russian army already has won a decisive victory. While this may be an exaggeration, both the Russian and the German official reports suggest that General Von Hindenburg's second thrust at Warsaw has been checked.

Grand Duke Nicholas, commander in chief of the Russian forces, for two days in succession has recorded partial successes in this great battle, and tonight the German general staff says that the arrival of Russian reinforcements has postponed a decision. Both sides have expressed the greatest confidence in the outcome of this battle. Grand Duke Nicholas and General Von Hindenburg heretofore have been so successful in their strategy that their adherents look upon them as almost unbeatable.

The German papers only this morning were talking of a general Russian retreat, despite the fact that the Russians have been advancing steadily in Galicia, have repulsed the Austro-German attack before Cracow, held part of the German territory in East Prussia and were opposing General Von Hindenburg's advance on Warsaw. It is the same in Petrograd. All the correspondents declare it is certain that Russian numbers must tell.

Lime Treatment in Tuberculosis

In the May 25, 1912, issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association appeared this statement concerning calcium (lime) medication in the treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis (consumption): "Under the systematic, continued and persistent regime of calcium assimilation, Van Gleason has seen a number of his patients improve, undergo an exudation or partial consolidation in the lung, which then resolving would appear to contribute to the walling off and closing of the lesions. Hand in hand with this course of events, the sputum clears up of tubercle bacilli, which finally disappear, and the patients are discharged with healed pulmonary tuberculosis."

Ethical medical journals seldom speak so positively about a remedial agent, yet this testimony coincides with that from many consumptives who have secured like results through the use of Eckman's Alternative.

Since calcium is a constituent of this remedy for pulmonary tuberculosis and allied throat and bronchial affections, its healing power may in some measure be attributed to the manner in which this element is so combined with other ingredients as to be easily assimilated by the average person and it does not irritate the stomach.

Eckman's Alternative contains no opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs, so it is safe to try. If your druggist is out of it, ask him to order, or send direct to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia.

GEN. BLANCO IS FOR GEN. VILLA

San Luis Potosi, Mex., Nov. 23.—General Lino Blanco, left in supreme command of the military forces in Mexico City by First Chief Carranza, today announced his repudiation of Carranza and his allegiance to Villa. He has arrested Generals Alvaro Obregon, Antonio C. Villareal and Eduardo Hay.

This means the occupation of Mexico City by the forces of General Villa without opposition and the probable collapse of the Carranza government. Announcement of the action of General Blanco was contained in a telegram which he personally sent to the provisional president here.

Vera Cruz, Nov. 23.—The Mexican flag is again flying over Vera Cruz. Brigadier General Funston and his command of 8000 infantrymen and marines, which was landed here on April 30 last, got under way this afternoon and General Aguilar's men assumed charge of the city. The United States transport Cristobal, bearing the first contingent of the American brigade, left the dock at 1:50 p. m., bound for home.

The evacuation of the city was effected without any clash occurring between the Americans and the native army. The Mexicans marched in on the heels of the departing troops, but no serious disturbance of the city's peace was registered during their entrance.

Residents of Vera Cruz who had heard of threats made by followers of General Villa and others opposed to General Carranza that they would resist the occupation of the city by Aguilar's troops, breathed more freely as the Carranza soldiers moved neener and nearer to the center of the city. The only unpleasant incident connected with the transfer of authority was higher than the men in the ranks of either army, and so had no effect on the general situation. General Carranza was quoted by representatives here as being displeased with the method used by the Americans in delivering over the city and as having criticised sharply the failure to make a formal transfer of the various departments.

MUCH ACTIVITY IN NEVADA CAMP

Rochester canyon, in the vicinity of lower Rochester, is a busy spot, every effort being made to complete construction work on the new mill and the railroad before the snow flies says the Goldfield Tribune.

The Silver Belt railroad has established a temporary terminus here, and three miles in large quantities for the mill, the mines and the long trestle on the railroad is being received daily, together with general merchandise for the stores in East Rochester, supplies for the mines and machinery for the mill.

The Silver Belt railroad is doing a good business and receives a considerable revenue from different sources. One from the leases on Noland hill, the Rochester hills and Big Four still goes out by way of Limerick canyon, but East Rochester leases and the Nevada Packard in the south end of the district load at the new terminus in Rochester canyon. The Packard has increased its shipments to about fifteen tons daily and is building a new wagon road that will cut the distance down from mine to railroad to a little more than three miles. The company has a large body of ore developed in the lower tunnel, much of it of shipping grade. Shipments the first two weeks of November amounted to 136 tons of an average value of $50, the returns being $6801.69. A new tunnel has been started to get under the ore body and when it reaches the ore chute the output will be increased. The company also plans to send about 15,000 tons of ore to the custom mill being built at East Rochester. There are several thousand tons of mill ore of $12 to $15 grade developed in the mine and on the mill dumps. From these sources and the sale of treasury stock the Nevada Packard management plans to build up a fund for the building of a mill of its own.

Besides the Nevada Packard, there are occasional consignments of ore from the Weaver and the Moynahan leases on the Buck and Charley where the ore chute that was developed in the upper tunnel has lately been opened up on the lower tunnel. Then there is the Kettle De Lorme mill, which is kept busy on gold ore from the Rochester Porphyry and leases on Lincoln hill. The mill is small, consisting of two stamps only, but it is doing good work and treats from six to ten tons a day. One eighteen-hour run is said to have produced $240 worth of gold bullion. Water for the mill is procured from a well in the canyon and is pumped by a gasoline engine.

Paris, Nov. 23, 10:50 p. m.—A semi-official statement, giving some of the particulars of the fighting at the front in Belgium and France from November 15 to 21, was issued here tonight. It says in part: "On the 15th, in the Vosges, the Germans, having sustained losses which reached 2500 men, removed General Eberstadt, who commanded a division. Lieutenant Mandel, son of the ex-secretary of state of Alsace-Lorraine, was killed during this day's fighting. "On the 17th it was necessary to send to the rear two German Battalions which had been engaged against us at St. Marie because they had lost more than half their effective forces. "It is well worth while giving special mentions to the affair at Chauvencourt, which did not succeed, and to the one of Senones, which, on the contrary, did succeed. "Our men, by a daring attack, had established a footing in the two barracks west of Chauvencourt, a suburb of St. Mihiel. Twice they were repulsed and twice they recaptured the position. They still occupied the larger part of it when, on the 18th, a violent 28-centimeter fire compelled the front company to seek shelter in the first barracks. At this moment the Germans blew up the building, which they had previously mined. "We had in this place 200 casualties (killed, wounded and prisoners). The endeavors of these brave men, however, were not useless as through them we were enabled to destroy the defensive works which had served as the base for German counter attacks."

BLOWING UP OF FRENCH SOLDIERS

London, Nov. 23, 10:45 p. m.—Plans for dealing with a possible German invasion were spoken of in the house of commons tonight by Undersecretary for War Tennant.

W. C. Bridgeman, member from Shropshire, asked whether the wearing of brassards would insure that persons taking part in the defense of the country would not be regarded as civilians. He also asked if the government was aware that many active men over the recruiting age desire to fight in event of an invasion and are prepared to furnish their own arms and equipment if the war office will design a uniform for such a force.

Mr. Tennant replied that the war office felt it was the first duty of the navy to prevent a raid.

"In event of its taking place," he said, "it is our duty to drive the Germans into the sea as fast as we can, and I hope we shall be enabled to do so."

In regard to the action of the civil population if an invasion takes place, he pointed out that emergency committees were being formed and instructions were being issued to those committees. He thought it was not desirable to state at this time what these instructions were.

WHITMAN OPENS PARDON INQUIRY

New York, Nov. 23.—District Attorney Whitman today began an investigation of all circumstances attendant upon the granting of a pardon on November 27, 1912, by John A. Dix, governor of New York, to Albert T. Patrick, serving a life sentence at Sing Sing for the murder of William Marsh Rice.

The investigation was begun after two affidavits had been filed with the district attorney concerning published statements to the effect that Joseph Walker, Jr., a Wall street banker, had offered to obtain Patrick's pardon if John T. Milliken of St. Louis, Patrick's brother-in-law, would join him in a mining deal. The affidavits filed were made by George C. Goodrich and wife, Mrs. Anna Goodrich, and

ARREST OF MAN WHO IS CHARGED WITH MURDER

James L. McGivern was arrested at 12:40 a. m. today at the Utah Hot Springs by Deputy Sheriff J. L. Hobson and Detectives H. C. Peterson and Tom Burk, and is now in the county jail facing a probable charge of murder. McGivern is a Salt Lake City bartender and is alleged to be responsible for the death of Mrs. Cowing, which occurred yesterday morning at the St. Marks hospital at Salt Lake City. Mrs. Cowing died of pleuro-pneumonia, which is said to have been induced by wounds that she received in a stabbing affray at the Wasatch Fish club on November 11. The stabbing is alleged to have been done by McGivern. The Salt Lake City and county officials had tried to locate him ever since the 11th, but failed. Their belief was that he had come to Ogden and yesterday two detectives, R. L. Eddington and Bert Seager, came here and co-operated with Deputy Sheriff Hobson in an attempt to locate him.

About 11 o'clock last night Hobson learned that McGivern had gone to the Utah Hot Springs and with Detectives Burk and Peterson went there and placed him under arrest. The man was brought to Ogden and placed in the county jail, but refused to discuss his case.

Salt Lake, Nov. 24.—Following the stabbing of the woman McGivern disappeared. McGivern accompanied her to the roadhouse, as did a third party called "Ted." The latter is said to be a police officer from one of the smelter towns near Salt Lake. The Cowing woman was at a table in the roadhouse with Mrs. Edith Smith, who lives at 184 East First South street. Someone called the Cowing woman into the adjoining room and she returned a few moments later, fell over Mrs. Smith, and declared that she had been stabbed. She was brought to the Plaza hotel in this city and later taken to St. Mark's hospital where she was attended by the police surgeon.

When taken to the hospital, Mrs. Cowing declared that a diamond ring, valued at $175, had been slipped from her finger when she was being carried to an automobile following the stabbing. Detective Carl Carlensen of the police department investigated and on November 12 arrested Wendell Phillips, a race track follower, who had sold the ring to a local saloonkeeper. He maintained that he had picked the ring up off the dancing floor at the roadhouse. Phillips is being held in the county jail under a charge of robbery.

Little is known here of the Cowing woman, except that she has a sister in Nebraska and is said to have a little daughter living somewhere in Nevada. The body is at the Evans undertaking rooms awaiting funeral arrangements.

GERMANS ARE TO HIT AT ENGLAND

London, Nov. 23, 10:45 p. m.—Plans for dealing with a possible German invasion were spoken of in the house of commons tonight by Undersecretary for War Tennant.

W. C. Bridgeman, member from Shropshire, asked whether the wearing of brassards would insure that persons taking part in the defense of the country would not be regarded as civilians. related their version of what transpired at a meeting among themselves and Mr. Milliken on March 23, 1912. Inasmuch as the statute of limitations would become operative in three days, Assistant District Attorney Delahanty, who was placed in charge of the investigation, was instructed to use all possible expedition.

Mr. Whitman announced that, if the facts warranted after further investigation, the matter would be placed before the grand jury. Former Governor Dix, who is in the city, said today that he had pardoned Patrick solely for the sake of Patrick's children. He repeated his previous denial of the report that he had pardoned Patrick at the request of Mr. Walker. Mr. Dix denied that he was in New York in connection with the Patrick case.

Tulsa, Okla., Nov. 23.—Albert T. Patrick, engaged in the oil business here, today gave out a statement denying the truth of allegations made in connection with his pardon by former Governor Dix of New York. He declared that the giving of an option on mining property by his brother-in-law, John T. Milliken, to a New York banking firm had nothing to do with his (Patrick's) pardon, and that it was a "financial transaction that appealed to Milliken on its own merits."

Patrick denied that he ever knew George Goodrich, who is said to have made the charges, and said that his pardon by Governor Dix was based solely on his innocence of the charge of murdering Rice. He added that the charges brought against Dix probably were the work of enemies.

St. Louis, Nov. 23.—John T. Milliken today emphatically denied that a mining deal between himself and a banker of Wall street, New York, had anything to do with the granting of a pardon to his brother-in-law, Albert T. Patrick, by Governor Dix. The affidavit of George C. Goodrich, published in New York and purporting to give details of the mine deal in question, was termed a "tissue of falsehood" by Milliken.

Legal expenses and other incidental costs to the long-fought fight for Patrick's pardon cost Milliken about $150,000, the St. Louis millionaire said. "Goodrich is angry at me because I would not give him an option for the purchase of a certain gold mine," he added. "I later gave that option to a New York firm, but the name of Patrick never was mentioned in connection with the deal."

BRITISH FORCES ARE DRIVEN BACK

London, Nov. 23, 7:55 p. m.—The official press bureau tonight made public the following communication issued by the Marquis of Crewe, secretary for India, dealing with the British military operations at the head of the Persian gulf and in East Africa:

"The recent operations in the Persian gulf have been crowned with even greater and more rapid success than was anticipated after the signal defeat inflicted upon the Turkish forces on November 15 and 17. The latter, abandoning all further resistance here, fled, leaving eight guns and many wounded in our hands. The Valley of Basra and Bagdad accompanied the defeated Turkish forces in their flight up the Tigris river.

"Basra (a river port on the Shatt-el-Arab, sixty miles from the Persian gulf) was occupied on the 21st instant by our naval and land forces. All the British in Basra are safe.

"In East Africa it appears from the latest information that an important German railway terminus was reported weakly held and that a force was sent from British East Africa to seize it. On the evening of November 2 one and a half battalions landed within two miles of the place and became heavily engaged just outside the town. But as the enemy were in much superior strength this force was compelled to fall back and await reinforcements.

"At 11 a. m. on the 4th the attack was renewed. When within 800 yards of the position the troops engaged came under a very heavy fire on their left flank. In spite of heavy casualties the 101st granadiers actually entered the town and crossed bayonets with the enemy. The North Lancashire regiment and the Cashmir rifles on the right pushed on in support under a very heavy fire and also reached the town. They found themselves opposed by tiers of firing from the houses and were eventually compelled to fall back to cover, 500 yards from the enemy's position.

"The losses were so heavy and the position so strong that it was considered useless to renew the attack, and the force re-embarked to return to its base to prepare for future operations. "From recent reports just received the total casualties in this unsuccessful operation were 795, including 141 British officers and men. The wounded mostly are doing well. Many are convalescent."

Stories Differ. London, Nov. 24, 4:35 a. m.—Conflicting reports have reached here concerning the fate of the German torpedo boat destroyer S-124, which was in collision Sunday with the steamer Angolane in the Baltic sea outside Falsterbo, Sweden. One report states that two German torpedo boats attempted to tow her to Sweden, though she was in a sinking condition, but there is no report of her arrival there. Other reports state that she was so badly injured as the result of the collision that she sank almost immediately.

MUCH FOOTBALL, NOT ENOUGH WAR

London, Nov. 23, 11:10 p. m.—Indignation against the hitherto universally popular game of football is expressed by nearly the entire British press today because almost no men enlisted as a result of the recruiting at Saturday's matches.

"It is time to eradicate the football cancer," says the Pall Mall Gazette in an article which goes on to say that not a single man was recruited at London's principal football match, which was attended by 15,000 spectators. A colonel who lost a son at the front and was himself returning to the firing line appeared at this game, says the paper, and pleaded with the men to enlist.

"As a soldier I ask you," said the colonel, "I say come, your country needs you." His words were drowned by shouts as the teams came on the field, continues the paper, which adds that in other parts of the country the same stolid refusal greeted the bands of speakers and recruiting officers. No recruits were obtained at Nottingham, where 7000 spectators attended a match, and no one was recruited at Brighton.

The Evening Standard says that the result of the country-wide movement was one recruit.

"Is football such a curse that nothing on earth can stop it?" says the Standard. "Vigorous youth should be powerfully persuaded that this is not the time for the development of any passion save love of country."

The Westminster Gazette says there is only one way in which the football association can put itself aright in the eyes of the public, and that is by discontinuing its program.
